17. Summarize the following passage :

What do you think of the man who eats a banana in front of a shop and casually throws the skin on the road? He is an unwanted person in the society. He is not quite a match for the man (or woman) who slips into your garden very early in the morning before you are awake. All the roses that you have tried so hard to produce are picked and put away in a basket. When you step into the garden to feast your eyes on your roses, they are just not there! The worst story in the man who lives next door and celebrates the marriage of his daughters once every two months till all the six girls are married off. This monster hires loudspeakers which shriek away from very early in the morning till late at night. At that volume music simply ceases to be music and becomes a shrill stream of noise that shatters your ear-drums and tears your nerves apart. Nobody that has been forced to endure this for a day will ever want another wedding to take place in the locality again.

18. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow :

A minister was inspecting a prison when he noticed a young criminal in one of the cells. He asked what the prisoner had been doing when he was caught. The prisoner said, 'I was just walking along the street when I saw a bit of rope on the ground. Thinking it was of no use to anyone, I picked it up,' The minister was moved, and he asked the Prison Superintendent, 'Why should we keep this young man in prison for an old piece of rope?' Your Excellency, 'said the Superintendent, 'please ask him what was tied to the rope'. 'Well, young man, what was it?' To my bad luck, Your Excellency, there was a cow tied to the rope.'

Questions:

- (a) When did the minister notice the young prisoner?
(b) What was the young man doing when they caught him?
(c) What did the visitor ask the Prison Superintendent?
(d) Why did the young man pick up the bit of rope?
(e) Give synonyms to (a) noticed, (b) luck.
