Generally speaking, film making is a tough business. It requires money in huge sums. With the backing of money, men and materials, Hollywood can easily produce films such as Titanic or Jurassic Park. Such films use graphics to produce special effects. They are big budget films. In India, this is not the case because we neither have the money nor the technology to produce such films. Further we do not have a market for such films. A film made in Telugu is perhaps made in two other languages and is popular only with Indian audience either in India or abroad. However, this does not mean that films produced by our directors are not good. Directors select themes such as family drama, romance, tragedy, comedy that appeal to the people and thereby entertain us.

Questions :

- (a) Why can Hollywood produce big budget films?
- (b) Why can Indian cinema not produce films like, Titanic or Jurassic Park?
- (c) What are the themes that Indian directors work on?
- (d) Where and with whom are Telugu films popular?
- (e) Give a suitable title for the passage.
