17. Summarize the passage given below :

Our parents often say that they spent a lot of time outdoors. But they forgot to mention that even they watched TV, but maybe not as much as us. They had to study a lot as well. At that time, competition in studies was not a priority like it is today. These days, we sit on the couch with the TV remote in our hands as we have such a wide variety of choices. But, back then, they had a maximum of six channels and they had no remote. During this time, there is more education for girls when compared to our grandparents' time. Books were a popular form of entertainment. So, many things changed in this time, shaping the world we live in today. Schools also improved. Some of the popular games of that time include gillidanda, chor-police and cricket.

Right now we can barely make it to class on time. We take our teachers for granted and we never turn in our projects on time. We don't show much consideration to our teachers, van drivers and support staff. We are surrounded by electronic devices and books are almost forgotten. We stay online a lot and most times forget about our family. Family time is when we as a family get to do something together. Electronic devices have many disadvantages. Our eyes get spoilt, and it kills our creativity.

18. Read the following paragraph carefully and answer the questions that follow :

Dogs have a sensitive hearing; they can hear sounds four times farther away than we can. They can hear higher frequency sounds and know where it is originating from. They can even differentiate sounds - that's why they know when your car has arrived. Humans can hear sounds that vibrate at less than 20,000 vibrations per second (20,000 Hz) while dogs can hear sounds of up to 50,000 vibrations per second (50,000 Hz). What's more? At high frequencies, dogs can hear much softer sounds. Thus, they can even hear sounds which cannot be heard by humans (less than 0 decibels).

A dog's ears are controlled by 18 muscles, while our ears are controlled by only six muscles. That is why we cannot move our ears but our dogs can, in the direction of the sound. To hear better, they even tilt and rotate their ears. Though this is an amazing power in

- * our dogs, it is a matter of concern as well. Dogs can get stressed by sounds they hear. Even wondered why your dog runs away when you switch on the vacuum cleaner or when the drill is on? It is because those sounds are much louder to them because of their hearing power.

From a dog's perspective, a cracker seems like a bomb. They get scared with loud noise and sometimes try to run outside. Some dogs get lost in the madness, a few may even get involved in an accident or hurt themselves. They get nervous, stop eating and even snap at humans. The plight of strays is even worse. They hide under cars or other parked vehicles putting them in a very dangerous situation.

- (i) What type of hearing do dogs have?
- (ii) What is the frequency of sound that humans can hear?
- (iii) How many muscles control dog's ears?
- (iv) Why do dogs hurt themselves sometimes?
- (v) (a) Pick out the word from the passage which means 'to come from a particular place, time, situation etc'.
- (b) Write the synonym for the word 'scared'.
